

Phillips Pharma Group Achieves QUAMED Certification against WHO Standards: Elevating Supply Chain Quality Standards in Sub Saharan Africa

We are thrilled to announce that Phillips Pharma Group has recently achieved QUAMED certification against the World Health Organization (WHO) Good Storage and Distribution Practices (GSDP) standards for our supply chain operations in Tanzania. This milestone underscores our unwavering commitment to quality, patient safety, and excellence.

Why Is This Certification Significant?

1. Patient-Centric Approach:

- Our investments and decisions have always been guided by one central principle: the well-being of the patients we serve. This certification validates our dedication to ensuring that every pharmaceutical product reaches patients in optimal condition.
- By adhering to WHO GSDP standards, we prioritize patient safety above all else.

2. Adherence to International Standards:

- The WHO GSDP standards are globally recognized as the gold standard for pharmaceutical supply chain management. They cover critical aspects such as storage conditions, distribution practices, and quality control.

- By meeting these rigorous requirements, we demonstrate our alignment with best practices endorsed by WHO and the global health community.

3. Quality Assurance at Every Step:

- From procurement to distribution, our supply chain processes adhere to strict quality controls. This certification reinforces our commitment to maintaining the highest standards at every stage.
- Our teams work tirelessly to ensure that medications are handled, stored, and transported in a manner that preserves their efficacy and safety.

Breaking New Ground in Sub-Saharan Africa

We are not just celebrating a certification; we are breaking new ground. Phillips Pharma Group proudly stands as the first private organization within the Sub-Saharan African region to achieve QUAMED certification. It is with immense pleasure as we add this star to our growing list of achievements as we are also the first to hold 'double QMS certification' within our industry within this region. Our previous milestone was for ISO 9001:2015 standards.
